Day Seventeen - Day

Eighteen:

I cannot go on much longer. I know now t'was no work of the earth that trapped us here - I can feel His force in it.
It was His will, His power that has sealed us in this nightmare. The barricade will not be enough. So many of them.
They come like unto the ocean's waves - ceaseless, neverending. For every
five we strike down,
another ten rise up against us. And like the sands we cannot help bu
be brought down, wasted away in this ocean of blood.
